joy of being wrong

...for those who knew

2025

joy of being wrong lingers with the quiet joy of being wrong the view is open and wide straight lines, solid surfaces, definite angles bright space, each space, always certain never cover, never tamper, never change staring them confidently and securely but conditions are harsh, imposed, and mind is resisting bringing in newness, altering, challenging the old, the known the wonder of change the joy of surprise, yourself the strange sweetness of being wrong
